About our charities: The Lewis County Libraries and Reading Centers have lost much of their state and county funding. Because of the funding cuts, many libraries have had to reduce their open hours. Some libraries and reading centers cannot purchase new books, magazines and barely have funding to pay overall operating expenses. By giving the children of our community educational and reading material, we are helping to grow our future.

Hospice of Lewis County is an organization that assists those on the final journey in life. Many people don't realize the physical and emotional support that Hospice offers and how important Hospice is until their lives are touched by death. The purpose of Hospice care is to enable individuals to be cared for at home, receiving relief from pain and other symptoms, in the place where they are most comfortable. Hospice provides support and encouragement so patients and families can live life as fully as possible. With Hospice funding being limited, many patient and caregiver programs have been cut. Otis is asking for your support to help these patients and families live their last days more comfortably.
